MV Transportation retains PACE contract and awarded additional $33 million contract

CHICAGO (12/06/07) -- The PACE Board of Directors voted to retain MV Transportation, Inc. as its provider of ADA Paratransit service in South Cook County, and awarded the company a new $33 million, five-year contract to operate ADA services in the City of Chicago.

PACE assumed responsibility from the Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) for all ADA paratransit service approximately one year ago, and MV becomes the first and only national provider to serve the CTA's paratransit needs.

"We are extremely pleased with the Board's decision to retain MV as its current provider," said Jon Monson, MV's Chief Executive Officer. "To be awarded an additional contract in the City of Chicago is equally exciting and demonstrates our ability to provide the quality paratransit service that is expected in communities across the country."

Under the terms of the new Chicago-area contract, MV will manage and operate ADA paratransit service in the northern area of the city. This $33 million contract was won from a local provider, becoming MV's first operation in the City limits of Chicago. The company currently operates contracts in the city's suburban municipalities under various contracts with PACE.

While other national companies bid on the contract, MV was the only national provider to be awarded any of the work.

Based in Fairfield, California, MV is the largest private provider of paratransit services and the largest privately-owned transportation contracting firm in the United States. The company employs more than 11,000 dedicated transit professionals and operates more than 180 paratransit, fixed-route, shuttle and Medicaid contracts in 25 states.
